Delivery

Guidelines

- a delivery fee (reference page 5) is applied to all delivery orders, we will waive the fee in cases where we have to revisit a location to correct an order
- your delivery day will be established and communicated to you by your supplying logistics site
- delivery day is assigned according to your location and delivery time is determined by your position on the truck delivery route
- a TBS representative will work with you to select a delivery time window that will support your operation and not interfere with your business

- upon request for scheduled deliveries TBS will not deliver to restaurants or like establishments during lunchtime or dinnertime if delivery has a negative impact on the efficiency of operations (e.g. if the beer needs to be brought in through a busy kitchen) or our delivery crew comes into view of customers
- lunchtime or dinnertime restrictions cannot be honoured for deliveries that are not scheduled, accepted late orders or emergency orders
- a scheduled delivery will have an estimated delivery window, TBS will contact you if the delivery will be significantly earlier or later than the estimated time
- generally, expect delivery once per week, this frequency may be either increased or decreased, depending on sales patterns
- discuss with your supplying logistics site the need for additional deliveries, they will take into consideration issues raised by you and will make final determination on any change in frequency
- similarly, TBS may make recommendations to you to decrease delivery frequency in the slower winter months, reduction in frequency will not take place until your supplying logistics site has discussed these recommendations with you
- TBS will advise of permanent changes to your delivery day or delivery time no less than 2 weeks prior to its implementation
- your delivery day may change in the week of a statutory holiday, TBS will communicate these changes at least 2 weeks prior to the statutory holiday
- you may receive an emergency order on unassigned delivery days for a fee (reference page 5)
- deliveries that aren't on a scheduled delivery day will be scheduled between 7:00am – 9:00pm
- deliveries will be made in the most efficient manner possible to your premise, it will be your responsibility to put the product into storage and to ensure product is rotated in order that the oldest product is sold first with no product being sold past expiry date

Acceptance Area

The acceptance area is the location where our driver will place your delivered product, subject to safety considerations and within reason, TBS will deliver to anywhere in your establishment, including above grade, if there is a delivery route or method that avoids ascending stairs.

The route from the truck to the acceptance area is not deemed to include stairs if there is:

- a ramp over a single step
- a ramp around a series of steps
- for deliveries up steps our crew can bypass the steps by utilizing a conveyor directly from the truck
- we can use an elevator that is on service specifically for our use during delivery

For customers who have complex acceptance areas where a standardized delivery is not possible, TBS will work with you to find a viable solution. An example of this is where product needs to be delivered down one flight of stairs, if our delivery crew can use a conveyor or slide and complete the delivery safely, we will deliver to a basement.

Basements must be minimum 6 feet in height, our crew must be able to stand up straight and do not have to bend while working to receive and put away product

Delivery will consist of placement of the product onto a floor or riser (shelf which lies directly on the floor) at the acceptance area, kegs will not be stacked on top of each other.

You are responsible for preparing the acceptance area for delivery, there should be sufficient room to place the new products directly on the floor or riser, and if a handcart is utilized, to maneuver the products. Drivers will not place new products on top of remaining products as drivers are not responsible for rotating stock. If the acceptance area is not clear of remaining products or other obstructions, the driver will place the product at a location that is as close as possible to the acceptance area without contributing to congestion.

Our delivery staff will take reasonable steps to minimize the tracking of dirt, snow, salt, etc. into the premises. If the site does become dirty, TBS will not be responsible.

Safety

Health and safety is the responsibility of all employees of The Beer Store, no employee will work or act in a manner that could cause injury to themselves, customers or damage to equipment or property.

The Beer Store strongly supports and enforces a Zero Tolerance Policy with respect to alcohol and illicit drug consumption during business hours.

Our delivery crews will utilize appropriate equipment such as bumpers, hand carts, slides, conveyors and rollers to minimize possible damage to your premises. We will not accept liability for wear-and-tear damages that can reasonably be expected to occur, despite the use of this equipment.

To ensure a safe working environment for our delivery crews please reference the Safety Requirements - Delivery Acceptance Area guide included with your welcome package or at www.thebeerstore.ca/licenses/manuals-and-forms.

Discrepancies

Yours or a designate signature on the delivery note at the time of delivery will confirm that the shipment has been inspected and the receiver agrees it is correct and the product received is in good condition. Do not accept products that show visible damage, if the order is incorrect and you require the product, TBS is committed to working with you to deliver the correct products.

Upon receiving a signed delivery note, TBS will not acknowledge claims for short shipments or damaged products.

Inventory Control

Minimum Inventory Levels

We want to make sure you never run out of product; you can help by maintaining appropriate inventory levels. We recommend that you always have a minimum inventory level of 7 days of expected sales. Our flexible payment options can provide up to 7 days credit to help you maintain this recommended level of inventory.

Storage of Beer

Packaged beer should be stored in a cool dark place, in most cases, beer that has been exposed to high temperatures or direct sunlight will lose its flavor. Beer must also be protected from freezing since frozen beer takes on a cloudy appearance and should not be served.

Draught beer should always be refrigerated, the ideal temperature of the refrigerated storage should be between 1° to 3° Celsius or 34° to 38° Fahrenheit. It is also important to remember that draught beer is subject to considerable agitation while in transit, therefore, to avoid the problem of too much foam, kegs should remain stationary 24 hours after receipt.

To ensure the highest quality product is being served follow these steps:

- ♦ draught beer should be immediately stored in a refrigerated area
- ♦ keep coolers running at all times and only shut down for servicing
- ♦ stock rotation ensures fresh product, a good rule is first in, first out - our drivers do not rotate product
- ♦ keg storage and dispensing area should be kept clean to prevent any possibility of contaminating draught products

Shelf Life

Product date codes list the date the product was brewed, generally, the Brewers follow the system below, the date of production is printed on the case or is evident on individual bottles and cans. The first letter of the code represents the month.

A	January	E	May	J	September
B	February	F	June	K	October
C	March	G	July	L	November
D	April	H	August	M	December

- the letter “I” is not used as it can be confused with the number 1
- next two digits represent the production day within the month – example - A01 denoted January 1
- next digit represents the year of production – example – 3 = 2023
- various other digits follow in the code however it is only the letter and the first three digits that apply to the self life

Shelf life does vary, but 6 months will be used for this illustrative purpose, if the product date coded A01 has a shelf life of six months; the expiry date would then be G01 or July 1.

The product shelf life report lists specific shelf life for all products carried by TBS, this report is updated on a regular basis and can be found at www.thebeerstore.ca/licensees/inventory-levels.

Full Good Returns

Full good returns will be picked up with your next delivery, be sure to add the product when placing your order online through the beer for business website.

To facilitate the immediate credit of full goods our drivers will only pick up full goods listed on the Customer Returns slip.

TBS will accept for return any products that are defective for full value credit. Defective reasons include:

- taste and foreign material – packaged goods are to be returned in multiples of 24
- leakers – bottles must have evidence of glass attached to the cap and can products must be unopened

To facilitate the immediate credit of draught products and to avoid disputes of how much product remains in the container, all defective draught products returned for the reasons listed above will be credited 75% of the purchase price (including taxes and deposit).

We will accept for return products ordered in error or products overstocked however restocking fees (reference page 5) may apply. The product packaging must be unopened, and draught must be untapped, or it will be deemed an empty return with deposit value only credited to your account.

You will be credited 100% of the purchase price (including taxes and deposit), for any products shipped in error or recalled by the Brewer or TBS.

It is the sole responsibility of the Licensee to ensure proper stock rotation, product may not be sold after code expiration.

It is often impossible to predict demand for large events and TBS would like to ensure that you do not run out of products. As a result, TBS will accept large returns of products from these events provided you certify in writing that the unsold product was stored properly and through secure storage and only appropriately trained staff had access to the product. Failure to follow these procedures will result in you receiving only the value of the deposit for the returned products. Please note that a restocking fee (reference page 5) may apply.

Contact our Customer Contact Centre for further details on how TBS can support large events.

Draught Services

The Draught Services division of The Beer Store is committed to helping you realize the full potential of draught beer by providing the following services:

beer line cleaning

sales and installation of all bar related equipment

sales and installation of full tower systems

Cleaning of Dispensing Lines

Lines should be cleaned on a regular basis or a scale called calcium oxalate, commonly referred to as “beer stone” that forms on the fittings, lines and taps. If you don’t remove the “beer stone” it will leave an unsanitary surface that can harbour micro-organisms which can affect the quality and taste of your beer, as well as affect its shelf life.

Proper line cleaning will eliminate the build-up, protecting the integrity of the product. Depending on the type of dispensing system you have, line cleaning should be done on a regular basis.

Please contact Draught Services at 1-800-668-4718 or visit their website www.draughtservices.ca for additional information.
